

Karl Keller

FAITH

Sacramental hours
cross this chapel of infinity
where the arch of the brain dreams horror.
And no one comes.
Within the waiting shadows
the silence says wait:
the darkness is a piece of a piece
in the rapture of even being.
But no one comes.