

Renounce War, Proclaim Peace

Charles S. Wain

Frank Wright

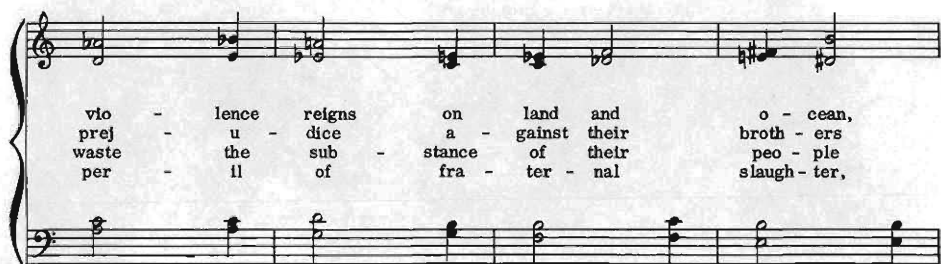

Solo
♩ = 152

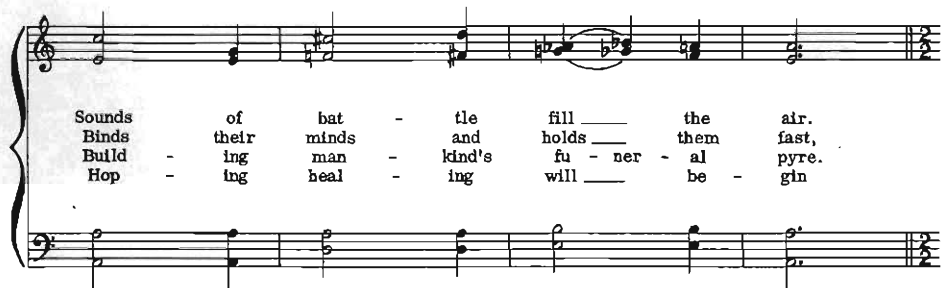

1. The world is reel - ing with com - mo - tion,
2. Now peo - ple filled with hate for oth - ers
3. In fear the lead - ers of the na - tions
4. The world mourns for each son and daugh - ter

Filled with con - flict and de - spair. While Feed the quar - rels of the past. Their Raise their walls of weap - ons higher. They Strug - gling in a flood of sin, In vio - lence reigns on land and o - cean, prej - u - dice a - gainst their broth - ers waste the sub - stance of their peo - ple per - il of fra - ter - nal slaugh - ter,

Sounds of bat - tle fill the air.
Binds their minds and holds them fast,
Build - ing man - kind's fu - ner - al pyre.
Hop - ing heal - ing will be - gin

Chorus

$\text{♩} = 76$

Soon this ter - ror must be end - ing,
 Ha - tred must not rule for - ev - er.
 You must cease to stud - y war - fare.
 Hear the word the Lord has spo - ken:

All this pain pre - cedes a birth.
 Change your hearts, the heav'n's com - mand.
 Seek the peace that you for - sook.
 Let your strife and con - flicts cease.

God has prom - ised he is - send - ing
 Wolf and lamb shall dwell to - geth - er;
 Beat each sword in - to a plow - share.
 Mend the hearts that have been bro - ken.

A new heav'n and a new earth.
 Peace and love shall fill the land.
 Make each spear a prun - ing hook.
 Re - nounce war and pro - claim peace.

CHARLES S. WAIN is a seventy living in the Salt Lake area. FRANK WRIGHT is a student living in Los Angeles. © 1984 by Charles S. Wain and Frank Wright.

NOTE: Accidentals apply only to the notes they precede.