

My Mormon Grandmother

Kit G. Linford

“Another girl.”
Unheralded birth
Beginning nothing.

Wee spurts of joy.
“Service.” Never served.
“Nothing important.”

Impacted years
Endured day by day.
Lonely. Not alone.

Sweet death’s release
with nothing to end
a life not lived.

Writer and feminist, KIT LINFORD has been a political activist, dramatist, and teacher. She currently has a novel contracted to an agent and two other books in various stages of completion.
