Woman Bathing

Marilyn Bushman-Carlton

And if a woman have an issue . . . [of blood], she shall be put apart seven days; and whosoever toucheth her shall be unclean. . . .

Leviticus 15:19

She performs the persistent ritual of cleansing, the splashing of water upon her scarlet apple flesh sullied with blood to expunge the sins the fathers shout.

But can she wash away the distorted reflection, the accusing leather-bound memorabilia, she sees in the water you lend, the rancid water pooled in stained basins colored with jaundiced eye?

Authority

Protected in the womb of your mighty power I remain.

My dependence feeds you.
