

Aspens

Don W. Jenkins

Parchmental stand aspens,
Paper atrmeble accepts scars,
Words healing standing parchmental—

There was a sanctity unbuilt,
Unhousable, sung by leaves,
Taken from heartwood, present.

I walk among the pillars of life
And need not emperson it,
Need only return and return.