DIALOGUE
a journal of mormon thought is an independent quarterly established to express Mormon culture and to examine the relevance of religion to secular life. It is edited by Latter-day Saints who wish to bring their faith into dialogue with the larger stream of world religious thought and with human experience as a whole and to foster artistic and scholarly achievement based on their cultural heritage. The journal encourages a variety of viewpoints; although every effort is made to ensure accurate scholarship and responsible judgment, the views expressed are those of the individual authors and are not necessarily those of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints or of the editors.

Submissions: Dialogue welcomes articles, essays, poetry, notes, fiction, letters to the editor, and art. Submissions should follow the Chicago Manual of Style, 15th edition. Electronic submissions are preferred. Send attachments in Word to editor@dialoguejournal.com. Please provide mailing address and phone number. For submissions of visual art, consult the editor for specifications at editor@dialoguejournal.com. Allow eight to twelve weeks for review of all submissions. Submissions published in the journal, including letters to the editor, are covered by our publication policy, under which the author retains the copyright of the work and grants Dialogue permission to publish. See www.dialoguejournal.com/submissions.

Subscriptions and Advertising: Information is available on our website, by phone or fax (801) 274–8210; or by email: dialoguejournal@msn.com.
